Woman's Club Installation

of Friendly Relations. Mrs. Hugh Bowman, in a blue and white scrollwork-print dress was installed as recording secretary symbolized by The Light of Truth.

The new third vice-president, Mrs. R. E. Moffitt, wore a white brown and turquoise swirl-print frock. As house chairman, her candle was called the Light of Energy.

Mrs. J. Parke Montague, second vice-president, wore green, turquoise, pink, brown, and white splash-print skirt topped with an aqua blouse. Her duties as membership chairman were symbolized by the Light of Enthusiasm.

Mrs. Dean L. Sears, wearing a soft pink, white and green print frock, kindled the Light of Service. As first vice-president, this light represented her position as program chairman.

LEADING LADY
Entering last through the center curtain was Mrs. Lee A. McCoy.

The diminutive new president of the Torrance Woman's club, who is noted for her excellent taste and flair for fashion, wore an enchanting frost white bouffant frock, topped by a brief-flame-colored jacket styled in Empire lines. Scrolls of white outlined the high stand-up collar and the full sleeves of the jacket. The hue of the jacket was repeated with dramatic emphasis in the flame-colored cummerbund which circled the tiny waist.

As the symbol of her position, Mrs. McCoy kindled the Light of Destiny, representative of the future of the club which rests in her keeping.

Mrs. Underwood paraphrased a poem by Edna St. Vincent Millay in reference to the overwhelming list of duties which fall to the president. She rephrased it: "I burn my candle at both ends. It will not last the night; But I don't care too much, my friends, for it gives such a lovely light."

Mrs. Mitchell stepped forward to present the president's pin and gavel to Mrs. McCoy, who in turn presented Mrs. Mitchell with the past president's pin.

As a most lovely and perfect ending to the ceremonies, the Junior Pipers sang Mrs. McCoy's favorite prayer set to music. The prayer of St. Francis of Assisi is a fitting expression of the spirit necessary to one who faces the task of guiding an organization:

"Lord, make me an instrument of Thy Peace:

Where there is hatred, let me sow love;

Where there is injury, pardon;

Where there is discord, union;

Where there is doubt, faith;

Where there is despair, hope;

Where there is darkness, light;

Where there is sadness, joy;

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console;

To be understood, as to understand;

To be loved, as to love;

For it is in giving that we receive,

It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,

And it is in dying that we are born to Eternal Life."

At the end of the beautiful prayer, Mrs. McCoy said softly, "After those words, what can I say? Except, may I always remember them and keep them in my heart."

Mrs. McCoy's special guests at the installation ceremonies included: Mrs. W. R. Patterson, Mrs. George Hatfield, Mrs. Margaret Eckhard, Mrs. Joseph Lukes, and Mrs. Joyce Brown.

Glowing red roses, a gift to Mrs. McCoy from her husband, graced the president's table.

She also received a telegram of best wishes from her daughter, Mrs. Robert Steele of Purcellville, Va.; and an arrangement of red and white carnations from her son, Lee.

Mrs. R. J. Prout, a member of the club who is vacationing in Indiana, sent Mrs. McCoy a congratulatory telegram.

Honored guests included Mrs. Robert Mowry, immediate past-president of the Junior Woman's club; and Mrs. James K. Lees, new president.

Mrs. McCoy announced that she and Mrs. Lees have chosen "Side by Side" as their theme for the coming year.

"I, as the president," Mrs.

McCoy said, "am comparable to the hub of a wheel, and the officers on the board are like the spokes connecting with the members of the club who are the wheel itself joining us all together. And, as no wheel runs well alone, the Juniors are one of our wheel, enabling us to move forward together side by side."

Graceful flower arrangements created by Mrs. Grover C. Whyte and Mrs. J. W. Post, decked each of the luncheon tables. The birthday table and snack bar arrangements were done by Mrs. John Thuss who has won many prizes for her artistic arrangements at local flower shows.

Masterminds in the recent bridge tournament were announced. The first prize went to Mrs. R. E. Moffitt, Mrs. J. A. Eisenbrandt and Mrs. D. J. Thomsen tied with second place trophies; and the third prize was won by Mrs. J. H. Fanning.

Y-Camp Tauquitz Meadows Has Weeks of Fun for All

A summer of fun and friendship awaits Torrance girls at Camp Tauquitz Meadows.

The freedom and beauty of living close to the trees and the mountains and the stars for even a week or two can weave the memories that stay in a girl's heart all of her life.

YWCA Camp Tauquitz Meadows in the San Jacinto Mountains near Idyllwild is a camp for girls 12 to 17 years of age. The camp program includes swimming in a brand-new pool, horseback riding, hiking, crafts, campfire, and worship.

Camping opens Tuesday, July 3 and continues through August 28.

The camp is operated by the YWCA Camping Council of Southern California, and includes the following YWCA's: Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Bernardino, Harbor Area, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, and Ventura County.

Registration for Camp Tauquitz Meadows should be made as soon as possible at the Torrance Branch YWCA in order to reserve the particular weeks desired, Miss Edith Simpelaar, Torrance YWCA teenage director announced.

Camperships for qualified girls are available. Girls who would otherwise be unable to attend camp are encouraged to contact the YWCA about this assistance, Miss Simpelaar said.
